Bringing together the world's lawyers

For over 85 years, the Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA - International Association of Lawyers) has been defending the legal profession and facilitating international contacts, cooperation and the exchange of knowledge among lawyers, while respecting their cultural and professional diversity.

Today, the UIA brings together several thousand members – lawyers or law professionals – and hundreds of bars, federations and associations.

Join the UIA and become a member of the world's strongest network of lawyers

- You will participate in the work of the UIA Commissions in Business Law, Human Rights and General Practice and share your experience with that of professionals from over 110 countries.

- You will also be able to join forces with the UIA, which, each year, provides its support to lawyers who cannot freely practise their profession. Everywhere in the world where rights of defence are threatened or the proper administration of justice is hindered, the UIA will make your voice heard.

Introduction

With several judgements concerning data protection, the European Court of Justice is a guardian of fundamental rights. It is therefore, a highly appropriate place to host this seminar.

The European draft regulation on Data protection aims to address the unprecedented challenges of the digital revolution. New information and communication technologies (internet, social networks, smartphones, Big Data, connected objects etc.) create an extraordinary range of possibilities for every economic sector. The financial, insurance and medical sectors have the opportunity to take advantage of this major evolution that will provide simplicity, efficiency and speed.

The strength of FinTech, companies using technological innovations in banking and financial sectors, lies in Big Data, predictive analyses, risk management, and mobility. This challenges the traditional activities of banks.

The same trend applies to the insurance sector. The large scale usage of data allows insurance companies to charge an insurance product under new criteria and to market new ranges of products.

New technologies give health professionals and patients tools that provide greater information exchange. Innovative tools allow patients to have a better understanding, of their disease and treatment and the ability to analyse and follow their developments but also raise data protection issues.

Although different, these three sectors face common challenges when dealing with particularly sensitive data. It is therefore their responsibility to find a balance between the adoption of new technologies, the search for competitiveness, improving their services, and the necessity of protecting personal data under current legislation.
