

Information on the processing of your personal data in connection with your donation to the Luxembourg Institute of Health (LIH)

The last update took place on 10 June 2021.

The Luxembourg Institute of Health (LIH) thanks you for your generous donation to its research activities. In the context of your donation, you have provided us with some of your personal data. We attach great importance to the protection of your data, which is why it is important for us to inform you about the use that the LIH makes of it and about the rights you have.

I. Purposes and legal basis of processing

The LIH, as the Data Controller for the management of your donation, processes your personal data for the following purposes

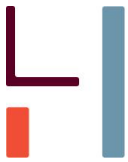

- to collect your donation (execution of the donation contract),
- to provide you with a tax certificate relating to the payment of your donation (compliance with our legal obligations),
- In the case of a donation made at the request of a third party, to transmit your contact details only when requested by the third party, so that they can thank you directly (legitimate interest pursued by the third party), and
- to keep you regularly informed by mail of the progress of research projects carried out by our laboratories thanks to your financial support (legitimate interest pursued by the LIH).

II. Data processed

The data we collect for these different purposes are your name, first name, address, the amount of your donation and your bank details (the latter are only processed by our finance department for the management of your donation).

III. Who has access to your data?

Your data will not be shared with any third party other than the one that motivated your donation and will only be used for the above purposes.

IV. How long your data will be kept

The data collected will not be kept beyond the time necessary to achieve the above purposes and to comply with our legal obligations in tax and accounting matters (up to a maximum of 10 years from the end of the year following receipt of your donation).

V. Your rights

In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR), you have the right to access and rectify your personal data. In some cases (depending on the conditions set by law), you have a right to object to the way your data is used (in particular if you do not want LIH to transfer on your details to the third party that prompted your donation or if you do not wish to be contacted again), the right to request the deletion of your data, the right to request the restriction of certain aspects of the processing of your data, and finally, the right to retrieve your data with a view to transferring it on to a third party (right to portability). If you wish to exercise your rights, you can contact the LIH Data Protection Officer at dpo@lih.lu.

Finally, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the National Commission for Data Protection (CNPD) regarding the processing of your personal data.

If you have any queries regarding the processing of your personal data by the LIH, you can contact the LIH's Data Protection Officer by e-mail at dpo@lih.lu or by post at the address:
